Miller the Winner.

The contest for the election of a Secretary of State has been brought to a close and Mr. Charles A. Miller, of Hardeman county, has been elected.

NEW YORK CITY has one saloon for every 150 citizens, and one Protestant church for every 4,464 citizens.

A BILL has been passed by the legislature authorizing the people of Ohio county to change the county seat from Troy to Union City.

A VERY sensible bill was introduced in the legislature the other day by Representative DeArmond, requiring parties in a divorce suit to give security for costs.

MANY of the governors and most of the legislatures now in session are discussing a ballot reform law. Public opinion is awake to this question, and it is well that it is so, for this is the rock upon which our republic is likely to split.

THIS week we place upon our exchange list the Normal Index, published at Pochontas, in this county, by Messrs. Cornelius and Whitten, principals of the normal school at that place. It is a very neat little sheet and will be of incalculable benefit to the flourishing school.

A BILL has been introduced in the Legislature to pass a registration law. We think this a good thing and would be glad to see it become a law. We would also like to see a law that would compel every man to show his poll tax receipt before he is allowed to register his name.

THE Vicksburg Herald fears that the lagging trust is not dead but only passing. For fear that this may be true would it not be wise for the farmers to combine in time, club together and put up a joint lagging factory, manufacturing their own lagging and not be dependent on the old manufacturers of the lagging? June will grow here as well as anywhere else, and it is manufactured as elsewhere in other places. To start an industry of the sort in West Tennessee would give employment to many of her citizens that are here lying idle and spending the money it will bring before it is planted. Manufacturers are the only salvation for the South, and the sooner these industries are started the better it will be for the whole people.

QUITE a number of Hardeman county people have lately left here, seeking homes in other places. Would it not be better for these people to consider well what they are doing? They may go to the rich and fertile bottoms of Arkansas, or they may go to the drouth stricken regions of Texas, and do well for a while, but finally come back to old Hardeman, broken down in health and without much of the expected wealth either. It seems to us that a better plan would be to improve the lands here, sow your old fields down in peas, clover, grass, etc. Have you a three horse sulky turning plow, that you can turn the vines, clover and grass under with in the summer when there is nothing much to do. In this way you can make your lands productive, your homes will be more cheerful, and there will be fewer people leaving Hardeman.

SENATOR SHERMAN, being serenaded by negroes at his house in Franklin Square expressed the hope and belief that the next Congress would pass a uniform election law to secure to every man his right to vote and have that vote counted, but he warned them that Congress could not interfere in local elections. A state, or a part of the people of a state, may do injustice to its citizens, but this does not authorize Congress to interfere with military force. If injustice is done you must not resort to mob violence or crime. You must appeal to the law and public opinion. In any resort to force the advantage is fearfully against you. Your hope is in the moral conviction, growing stronger day by day, that injustice to you rests on your oppressors. It was for them, the speaker said, to show the untruth of the charges that they were not fit for the duties of citizenship, and that in those states where they were numerous they would establish negro rule and endanger civilization. In conclusion he said that their labor was the most valuable commodity in the South, and would in time demand for them comfort, home independence and civil and political rights.

ONE of the saddest revelations of political scoundrelism has been brought to light by The Voice, a newspaper, published at New York, in the interest of Prohibition. It consisted in stealing the mailing galleys of the Voice containing 50,000 names of subscribers. These 50,000 names were not missed from among 1,000,000 others for some time. The receivers of this stolen property were Mathew Stanley Quay, Senator from Pennsylvania and Chairman of Republican National committee, James S. Clarkson, Vice Chairman of same and W. W. Dudley, Treasurer of Republican National committee. The price paid for the stolen property by these receivers of stolen property was $250 and the promise of an office. These five scoundrels, Quay, Clarkson, Dudley, Sansom and Durpee ought to be brought to trial, sentenced to the penitentiary and made to wear horizontal stripes for one day at least. They have done President-elect Harrison too great a favor however to remain in the penitentiary. Harrison will pardon them out as Grant pardoned his friends out of the penitentiary. The two thieves have made full confessions and there is no doubt of their guilt. The use made of the galley list was to send republican literature to the subscribers of the Voice as if coming from the office of the Voice. The Republicans get office by stealing and bribing and try to hide their rascality by kicking up a great dust about Southern frauds. If there is not some remedy found for rascality in elections both in the North and South, this Republic will soon go to ruin.

WE copy from the Nashville Herald the following notice of the State Deposit Bill. Whenever this becomes a law, all who lost property by the war should get up a memorial, and get a bill passed paying us, and then pay all cost of issuing bonds etc.

By request Senator Craighead introduced a bill in the senate this morning which brings before the general assembly a question not at all new to legislative bodies and to the people of the state. It is no more nor less than to refund to the depositors of the Bank of Tennessee and its branches, the money lost by them when the bank closed operations. The bill provides that the amounts shall be paid by the state into thirty year coupon bearing interest payable semi-annually provided that no deposits made in the bank in which the same was made had been removed from the place where it was located and closed before the war broke out between the states shall be funded. The treasurer, the comptroller and secretary of state are constituted an examining board whose duty it shall be to receive, preserve, audit and examine the claims and demands presented by the said depositors, their agents, administrators or executors to be funded under this act. The board shall advertise and notify all persons owing and claiming deposits to present their claims therefor and file the same with said board at the capital on or before Jan. 1, 1890, to be funded under the provisions of this act. All claims and demands not filed with the board before Jan. 1, 1890, shall be excluded and disallowed and forever barred and rejected. The board shall keep a book and record the amount of deposit claimed, by whom made, the name of the claimant owing the same, when filed, the bank or branch in which the same was deposited. Said board shall have the power to examine upon oath claimants and their witnesses, and other persons, touching the validity and ownership of the claims or demands presented to be funded that they may intelligently credit and examine the same. If upon examination the claims are found to be valid, the board shall approve the same and record it, that the pro rata sheet may be made therefrom. The board, together with the Governor, shall cause to be prepared, bonds of the State of the denomination of $100, $500 and $1,000 in such proportions as the board may deem advisable, these bonds to be denominated "Depositor's Bonds." They shall bear the date of July 1, 1890 and payable thirty years after date. The rate of interest is left blank. Section 13 of the bill provides that the board shall receive as compensation for their services one dollar for each and every bond issued by them to be shared equally which shall be paid by the claimant receiving the bonds. The cost of engraving the bonds shall be paid by the state. No deposit made by or standing in the name of any civil or military officer of the state or the confederate states shall be funded.

The bill passed first reading. Our stock is complete. Call and see us before you buy, it is no trouble for us to show goods. jan18 G. T. INGRAM & Co.

That Awful Levee. Last Tuesday Dr. J. J. Neely, Jr., received a call to go out to Shandy to splinter the leg of one of Judge Fentress' fine Norman colts. Dr. Neely asked Dr. Robert Tate to accompany him. They made the trip and entered the buggy to return home. The river was high, owing to three or four rains. After crossing the bridge, which spans the river between Bolivar and Shandy, the levee is very narrow, and is plugging with a bad place the horse, from a tight collar, perhaps, or some other cause, became choked, and gave a lunge which landed the whole business down the levee, through a wire fence, into the water below. They were in a top buggy, but fortunately the top had been thrown back. Dr. Tate had his hands in his pockets when he struck the water, and after leaving passed through the fence, which left several of our marks, he was badly stunned, of course, but finally succeeded in getting out. Dr. Neely thought he could jump, and frog-like, without any mental reservation, he made a leap. His head struck an inch plank, which of course gave way, letting him through a wire fence, tearing his clothes and flesh considerably. He reached a little mound; upon which he stood for a moment and viewed the situation. He saw Dr. Tate struggling in the water and bleeding from the ear. His first impulse was to laugh, but at that instant he happened to glance at his own person, when he found that his coat had been torn nearly off, exposing the red lining. Seeing the red, the doctor thought he too had received a severe wound and was bleeding to death. We leave the reader to imagine his disappointment when he discovered it was his coat instead of his flesh. Dr. Neely says he made so much noise that he stopped Conger's Mill from running, which is located several hundred yards away. Both parties got out without serious damage. The damage to the buggy was also slight. The most serious business about it all was that Dr. Neely had to return minus the tail of his coat.

On Wednesday Mr. John Gibbons with his daughter while passing the same place also turned over and were thrown out. They were not dangerously hurt but ran a great risk. The authorities should repair this levee.

Hot Springs. Seven years ago my blood was badly poisoned. Uteers and boils breaking out all over my body. The strong medicines which I took brought on Rheumatism, and I went to Hot Springs, Ark. for two months which seemed to cure the disease, but it was only smothered, for on my return home the horrible disease appeared again worse than before. I then discarded all other treatment and took Swift's Specific, and its use cured me perfectly well. I have been well about seven years, and no return of the disease.

S. L. EDWARDS. McCormick, S. C., Oct. 20, 1888. S. S. S. is a sure cure for boils, for it cured me twelve months ago. I only took one bottle.

B. O. YERSELL. Greenwood, S. C., Oct. 25, 1888. During the early part of the last spring (1888), my body was covered with boils. At one time more than fifty were counted on my body and limbs. My face was not exempt from the painful trouble. The usual remedies would do me no good. Just why I began taking S. S. S. I do not know, but almost immediately I began to improve. I took nearly three bottles, and found myself entirely well. It was your medicine which affected the cure, when everything else had failed.

Yours truly, J. H. FORDHAM. Staunton, Va., Aug. 1, 1888. Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable remedy, and is the only medicine which permanently cures Scrofula, Blood Humors, Cancer and Contagious Blood Poison. Send for books on blood or skin diseases, mailed free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO. Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. The "Cigarette Eye." From the Little Falls (N. Y.) Times. Henry P. Hatcher, son of Florist J. C. Hatcher of Amsterdam, is sadly afflicted by the excessive use of cigarettes. The smoke has affected the left eye to such an extent as to cause a serious inflammation. The eye is so inflamed that he cannot see out of it. Dr. McMartin, the well-known oculist, says that to affect a cure the eye will have to be taken out and the ball of it scraped to remove the stick and blinding substance that has formed there. The disease is technically known as "cigarette eye." This case is a warning to all young men not to smoke the deadly cigarette.

Hoarseness is the first symptom; this is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given as soon as these symptoms appear, it will invariably prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving the remedy, as it contains no injurious substance. Dec. 14.

Several years ago Chamberlain & Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, commenced the manufacture of a cough remedy, believing that the public appreciate true merit, and in time it was certain to become popular.
